RUTGER

The new activism: in Poland activists use to drop a drone to abortion pills to protest anti-abortion rules.

This weekend a group of activists from Germany will use a drone to fly abortion pills to Poland. This calls attention to the group's Polish policy against abortion. In much of Europe is a legal abortion, except in Poland, Ireland and Malta.

The drone rises near the Polish border in Germany to land in Poland in the town Stubice. The initiative comes from the Dutch Women on Waves, in collaboration with a group of activists from Berlin and Warsaw.

Inspired by Google

Attention is the main reason for the action groups for abortion pills to fly across the border all the pills should actually reach women who need them. According to the organizations, many women go abroad to have an abortion or take them personally other measures. For the drone action groups were inspired by delivery services from Google and Amazon, which also experimenting with drones.
