Women's rights groups are planning to deliver abortion pills by drone from Germany to Poland in an attempt to help women in the country terminate their pregnancies safely. The "abortion drone" will carry World Health Organisation-approved drugs from Frankfurt an der Oder to the Polish border town of Slubice on Saturday, where it will be met by women's groups who will hand on the pills to those who need them. Dutch activist group Women on Waves says delivery from Germany will raise awareness of Poland's restrictive laws.
